Hermon School Department

Use of Mobile Computing Devices

The Hermon School Department recognizes the role that technology plays in the education of students. Computers, including wireless laptops and tablets, are valuable tools that students and staff can use to perform daily tasks, conduct research, complete written assignments and special projects, and make presentations.